

Back up to heaven for another load of hoss muck, good to see the robins about as normal

Rats about as well, size of an hoss!

Me new motors coming in handy

Twelve bags of hoss muck in the back, mmmm

Topping up all the beds again with manure

All raised beds on my half plot have now been filled, watered and recovered, the worms will now get to work with nature (bacteria and fungi), i.e. no disturbance

The last of my apples...white ensign in the background has seen better days!

Eating leeks under the enviromesh putting a bit of meat on now

Me mate's fig tree on the plot next door, does well

I had another 56 scaffolding boards delivered during the week (13 ft boards), got these for £7 each as they were used, since then already got another 3 people on the waiting list for the next lot

The West Midlands District Association of the NVS had their quarterly general meeting last night. A nice visit from Sherie and Fred Plumb. An excellent turnout as expected for such a good grower/ exhibitor of vegetables. Sherie gave us a talk going through the year and covered everything.

My newish neighbour covered half of his overgrown plot with plastic when he moved on site, cleared in 3 months! He is now doing the 'tuther half, ready to make his raised beds

The best talk we have had so far (for those that could understand her!)

A quiet drink in the local afterwards putting the world to rights, good to meet up again with 2 genuine decent people
